Unprecedented Growth Can Be a Precursor for Fraud

Over the past few years, the Sports Betting and iGaming industries have seen an increase of player activity and amounting to $61.5 billion in 2021, and is forecasted to rise to $114.4 billion by 2028 -- representing an increase of just over 86 percent¹.

With online gambling revenue rapidly increasing², growth at this scale can present risk and security challenges for many operators. The need for an effective fraud strategy is not only real but important.

Scale while reducing risk exposure

To mitigate these growing problems, many operators need to utilize multiple vendors to help prevent fraud and reduce loss.

However, integrating a set of disparate providers can not only be costly but can create silos, produce a fragmented risk score and introduce unwanted friction to your best players.
